Vignan's University honors parents of students who bagged jobs

Our management yesterday felicitated parents of our students who bagged jobs in the campus placement drives recently. As part of the Ugadi celebrations held on the campus, parents were felicitated by our Chairman L. Rathaiah and other members of the management. Dr. Rathaiah stressed that youth should never ignore parents and ethical education was important for the development of every student. "To convey this to students, we have been felicitating parents every year in a hope of the respect and gratitude towards parents grows," he said. He said that students should keep learning to reach heights in career and recalled that the creators of AbhiBus and RedBus applications were students of Vignan. "They earned laurels in just four years, while it took 40 years for me. Youth should make use of the opportunities and stand as a role model in society," he said stressing the need for innovation and entrepreneurship. Bengaluru-based Vinfinet Technologies Pvt. Ltd. president D. Vijay Bhaskar Reddy called upon parents not to compare their wards with peers and pressure them for the sake of degrees and ranks. In 2017, 540 students of the university bagged jobs, while 720 students gained eligibility to appear for interviews, said University Dean (Placements) Ramesh Naidu. So far, 640 students got call letters from over 450 companies. About a thousand parents took part in the event. Dr Tripuraneni Hanuman Chowdary who received Padma Shri last year, the fourth highest civilian award in India, who had contributed the most to the telecom revolution and IT development in country, inaugurated our solar power plant. He has been responsible for the birth of the telecom manufacturing industry in the private sector. And he is also considered as the spiritual father of all the private sector telecom companies in India. Madhu Bhashini Avula, Vice President, Polaris is the guest of honour and .
