Featuring a live inspire talk Department of Mechanical engineering

Knowledge and life skills are indispensable in this modern scientific and production era. Some students aspire to be technocrats and designers while some aspire to be entrepreneurs. In line with this idea, this department and T&P conducted a guest lecture on 'Vehicle Body design and development' on sat 22nd July. Guest person was Suroju Ramakrishna, Senior manager from Renault Nissan. The audience were immensely benefited when the speaker had touched upon the following aspects quoting from his book of life: Source of motivation like incidents, books and people etc;

2. Immediate challenges encountered and how addressed them; 3. Introspection to consider be considered for such a mission; 4. Support systems like family members, friends and other contacts who helped and 5. Finance management;

6. Time management; 7. Basic administrative skills for starters; 8. Drafting a project report; 9. Goal setting; 10. Fear of failure; 11. Handling criticism; 12. Managing success, profits and fame and stress

'Conducting Swatch CSE'

As a part of NSS activity, this department conducted an event "SWATCH CSE" on last 22/07/2017 in Pharmacy Block. This event was inaugurated by Dr.K.V.

International presentation hat-trick achieved by a faculty

Three research papers by Dr.M.Sivakoti Reddy, Asst. Prof. of this department entitled “Assessing the mediating Role of Visual content, Qualitative information and Responsiveness in Social media advertisements to generate Purchase intentions among the millennial customers: A sustainable strategy for the effective marketing”; “Rural Customer’s Mobile Banking Adoptability; An Empirical analysis on the customer’s perception towards m-banking in determining the customer satisfaction in the state of Telengana” and “Paddy farmer’s perception on the Organic farming practices towards the sustainable agriculture: An empirical analysis on the paddy farmers of Tenali Division in Andhra Pradesh” are selected to present on 28 & 29th of July 2017 in the International Conference conducted by IIM-Indore. On this occasion, our university key officials, HoD of the dept, colleagues and students of this dept congratulated him for his hat-trick achievement.

Department of Chemical Engineering

The 45 student-crew and 3 Faculty are together outside the classroom

Industrial visit is important to students undergoing professional courses and it helps students to gain first hand information regarding functioning of the industry providing an insight into the real working environment of the industry. Our textile branch students visited

Amaravathi Textiles, Martur under the guidance of Mr. B.R. Gurumurthi Asso. Prof., Mr. M.D. Vaseem Chawhan Asst. Prof. and Mr. B. Venkatesh, Asst. Prof. as a part of their course curriculum on 22/07/2017. The 45 student-crew from second, third and Final Year of textile branch exhibited lot of enthusiasm to participate. During their visit students were taken to various sections present at industry namely spinning, gassing and open-end process which helped them to acquire practical knowledge in the field of textile.

Department of Civil Engineering

Broadening domain perspectives through Knowledge sharing

When faculty participate outside the country, new educational environments and experiences are possible. They may have the opportunity to observe many things to bring them back into students’ knowledge domain. HoD of this dept has been inculcating research culture in the dept with her vibrant participation in global platforms. Dr. (Ms.) Almelu mangamma V. Hebsur hoD of this dept attended the 9th International Workshop on Advanced Ground Penetrating Radar - IWAGPR2017 held by University of Edinburgh in Edinburgh, Scotland during June 28-30, 2017. Ms. Almelu presented a research paper on ‘Simulation based Evaluation of Buried Utility Response’ authored by herself. Utility Response’ authored by herself; Dr. N. Muniappan, Associate Professor, Dept. of Civil Engg., V. V. College of Engineering, Tisaiyanvilai, Tirunelveli; Prof. E. P. Rao, Emeritus Fellow, Dept. of Civil Engineering, IIT Bombay and Prof. G. Venkatachalam, Retired Professor of Civil Engineering, IIT Bombay, currently Professor Emeritus (Adjunct) MPSTME, NMIMS. She could also attend the preconference workshop on ‘Latest version of GPR Max a GPR simulation tool developed by the conference chair, Dr. A. Giannopoulos, School of Engineering, Edinburg University, the world leader in GPR simulations. A licensed surveyor from Kuala Lumpur came forward to collaborate in future. She had chance to discuss with researchers, industrialists and exhibitors relevant to GPRs. She deeply acknowledges the moral and financial support of Vignan’s Management and Administration.
