HOW TO OVERCOME STAGE FEAR

Dt : 20.08.2015

Most of the first year students prefer to be in their own comfort zone rather than interacting with others. Most of them feel nervous when preparing to speak up or perform in front of a group, This fear of public speaking takes a huge toll on the self-confidence and self-esteem on the students. In order to boost the confidence a workshop on how to overcome stage fear was conducted for I B.Tech Students. The workshop was initiated by Mrs A Sharada and addressed all the students that learning to improve your speaking or performance is good but not enough. Apart from learning the students should address the negative perceptions, beliefs and thoughts. In addition to overcoming stage fear the different ways to present paper effectively was also addressed such as importance of greeting the audience, eye contact with the audience and visualizing a successful outcome. The workshop ended with some of the students addressing the gathering and how this workshop helped them to regain their confidence.
