About WOMEN'S DAY

International Women's Day (IWD), on March 8th provides an opportunity for all of us to join the International community and celebrate the achievements of women; to reflect on our current status; and to take action on unresolved issues like ending violence against women and providing them more opportunities for participation in public life.

The 2018 theme for the International Women's Day : "Time is Now : Rural and Urban Activists Transforming Women's Lives"

The United Nations encourages advocacy for Women's advancement everywhere in every way. It calls for challenging the status quo for Women's equality and vigilance in inspiring positive change.

Yes indeed we have come a long way since we celebrated the first International Women's Day in 1911. Empowered by communication channels, supportive spokespeople, equality research, campaigns and corporate responsibility initiatives, every one of us today is marching ahead with confidence and commitment to play our role in the nation's development.

It is time to thank and reflect on the services of all those social activists, both rural and urban, who have been working relentlessly towards transforming women's lives all around the globe.
